

Additional News

It's not shocking – safety is key

Scan with your camera app for more safety tips

We rely on electricity every day, so it's important to know how to safely use and be around electrical technology, appliances, and infrastructure.

In recognition of National Electrical Safety Month, here are some tips to help you and your family stay safe.

- Stay 30 feet away from downed power lines and report them immediately by calling 911 or Liberty's emergency number at 1-800-206-2300.
- Unplug appliances by holding the plug head, not the cord.
- Unplug small appliances, especially items that produce heat, such as space heaters and hair tools, when they are not in use.
- Do not allow electrical or extension cords to run through water on the ground.

You can make a difference

Consider donating to Project Help – it's neighbors helping neighbors.

By enrolling in Project Help, you can make a difference in your community. Adding just $1 per month – or even a one-time donation – helps qualifying neighbors in our service area cover energy-related expenses when they need it most.

Contributions are received monthly by Project Help, which uses the funds to help cover emergency energy-related expenses for those in our service area

Scan with your camera app to get started

